

MEDIA RELEASE

NO RUBBISH TIP FOR LIDCOMBE – PUBLIC MEETING

The public meeting undertaken to connect with the community re the proposed development of an Organic Waste Transfer Station at 109A Church Street, Lidcombe, was very well attended.

‘The concern of this proposed development has a negative impact on the community, across a range of reasons. Lidcombe deserves better.’

This is the view of Helen Hughes who, as a concerned resident, is urging residents to make their views known to Cumberland City Council. Members of the community were vocal that they do not want this proposed development to proceed.

Submissions are due by 14 July 2023, and Helen Hughes, along with the active support of local residents, are all urging residents to express an opinion. It is essential that local communities and their residents make their voices heard by way of submissions.

The publicly available documentation is extensive and can be sourced at <https://cumberland-eplanning.t1cloud.com/Pages/XC.Track/SearchApplication.aspx> then reference the application number - DA2023/0130

Helen Hughes stated that this meeting gave the community an opportunity to be involved as a collective in opposing this outrageous proposal, and commitment to an affirmative action towards achieving a just outcome for the Lidcombe community.

Details for providing a submission, the meeting video, and other information, can be accessed at the website which was established to assist the community - <https://nolidcombetip.com/>