OBJECTION TO DA2023/0130, Site 109A Church street Lidcombe NSW 2141; Lot 1 DP 778492

This email is to advise the relevant department that I personally object to the above mentioned proposed "Organic waste transfer station".

It is yet another example of a poorly planned decision made by a "governing" body.

After rezoning Church street and the development of hundreds of high rise residential units, a waste facility will be proposed to operate barely a few hundred meters away, not to mention the smell,dust and noise which will be emanating from the site as well as the traffic hazards created by excessive road use to and from the area.

Was it a coincidence that during the Olympic Games in 2000 that the Hill road facility was closed for several weeks to remove the smell and traffic jams associated with that particular waste facility?

I'm sure in relation to Hill road, it was clear that by imposing such restrictions they realised the importance of doing so to avoid the implications of operating such a waste facility in proximity to the public in general, let alone residential areas.

Also the fact that the Hill road facility is still there and functioning removes the requirement for an additional identical business model in such close proximity - in fact it is completely redundant.

Maybe there is a street closer to the Strathfield area that will appreciate the opportunity to host such a development and any associated benefits.

Regards,
