My reason for writing is to voice my opinion, objecting to the proposed waste transfer station on 109A Church Street, Lidcombe. My question to you is, would you like to live a couple of blocks away from a smelly, busy and dusty rubbish tip? Having worked near and in rubbish tips previously, I can provide a first-hand insight into just how disgusting the area surrounding a rubbish tip is.

Not only will the air/noise and soil pollution hit extreme numbers despite any environmental management procedures (because let's be honest, when was the last time you saw a clean rubbish dump?), but the health and safety of the local residents will be negatively impacted. Think of how much traffic exists there now, then inject an extra 59 heavy articulated vehicles in a very non-heavy vehicle friendly street. Along with the fact that Boorea Street had a truck ban which is terribly policed; I never fail to spot a heavy vehicle travelling on that restricted street.

Who will pay for the roadworks when these 42.5t trucks rumble up and down the fragile asphalt? This proposed build is akin to slapping the local residents with a wet rubbish bag. Especially in this economic climate where everybody is highly strung, barely recovering from a pandemic.

Build a tip in your backyard, not mine.
