To whom this may concern,

I heavily object to the proposal to build a rubbish centre in Lidcombe. I have looked at the location and I believe the vicinity to be too close not only to myself, but to all residents, schools, child care, aged care, parks and businesses nearby.

On top of issues such as air, noise and soil pollution, the dust fumes and bad smell will be a deterrent for me to live in this suburb that I have just moved to and enjoy living in. Which makes me think that this will be an issue to all that own property in the vicinity. This will lower the value of my property and the suburb. How would I be able to sell my property when people inspecting arrive to a foul odour in the air 24/7?!

Thank you.
