Hi,

I am sure you have received hundreds if not thousands of responses regarding why a waste transfer station should not be built in Lidcombe so I will not copy and paste the same concerns. I would like to tell you my story and why I feel that this waste transfer station should not be built in Lidcombe.

I have lived in Lidcombe for nearly 15 years, I bought my first home in 2009. The reason I chose to live in Lidcombe was due to the fact that I have been visiting my cousins every week since the late 1990s so I had already considered it a second home and living here was basically a certainty when I was searching for my first home.

Seeing Lidcombe grow from a small residential suburb to what is now a large community hub has been exceptional. I believe building this waste station would completely destroy Lidcombe as a suburb to raise your children. To be honest who would want their children to grow up next to a rubbish tip?

Building this waste station will lead people to move away from Lidcombe.
